LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT!

Marriage in High Life.

The Wedding Takes Place

In Eight days after the Introduction!

Social Gathering—Feasting—Dancing—Etc., Etc.

On Wednesday last, a grand wedding took place in this city at the Congregational Church, the bride being a blushing damsel, Lizzie Reimer who had just arrived from Europe, and the bridegroom Jake Perne, a young man who resides in this city. At 10 o'clock they repaired to the Church, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Allen, after which the newly married couple spent the remaining part of the day in riding about the city, and, when evening dawned, they, together with a large number of German friends repaired to Charles Golling's building where they enjoyed themselves till 12 o'clock, by tripping the "light fantastic toe." As near as our reporter could learn, the young lady's brother-in-law, who resides in this city, had taken quite a liking to Jake, and proposed that he send for his sister-in-law, and on her arrival, he was to make her his wedded wife. Jake accepted the proposition, and a dispatch was sent for her immediately, and last Monday week when the Galena came to this port Lizzie was numbered among the passengers.

Jake was on hand, and was not long in forming the acquaintance of the fair one, and in less time than it takes to write this, proposed, was accepted, engaged, and married!

McDonald's Lecture.

Married and single life. Ladies and gentlemen, old and young, who wish to enjoy one of the richest and most instructive lectures they ever did, or will listen to, should assemble at Beebe's Hall this, Tuesday evening, and hear McDonald the very able Scottish Lecturer, and practical Phrenologist, clearly expound the laws of love and the true relations that man and woman sustain to each other. The cause of maiden ladies and bachelors remaining single; how they can find suitable companions, why so many married people live unhappily together and seek a divorce will be eloquently treated, showing how those obstacles can be avoided. McDonald is an eloquent and fascinating speaker, has a faculty of combining their mirthful and humorous with the scientific and logical. His audience is kept laughing while their minds are feasting on substantial knowledge. His language is scrupulously chaste and refined.

N. B. At the close of the lecture he will select a number of ladies and gentlemen and show them Phrenologically adapted to live with each other happily, and those that would snarl and scold. This exhibition is highly amusing and instructive. Look out for crowded houses and a pleased audience. Comfortable seats kept in reserve for ladies. Come one and all; admission only thirty-five cents, children, fifteen cents. Examinations and charts given at Burrell House one day only. Improve this opportunity.

We suppose the best stories of odd incidents in the career of ministers are told by clergymen themselves. Imagine yourself listening to a grave Methodist preacher who spoke of having once passed a night at a rough house in the country, and just before going to bed suggested the reading of a chapter in the Bible and family prayer. The man in the house after a hasty search could find only a couple of torn leaves of the good book which he laid on the table, with the remark: "I really didn't know I was so near out of the Bible."

Our readers, whenever their stock of Bibles, or other books run low, should send to Hunter & Co., Hindsdale, N. H., for their catalogues. They supply and mail, prepaid at the very lowest prices, Book Novels, song Books, Albums, Colored pictures, photographs, Notions, and everything of the kind. Special attention given to supplying Scientific, Medical and Miscellaneous Works. Catalogues free.

This firm was established in 1860, does the largest business in its line of any house in America, and is perfectly reliable in all respects. Give them a trial.

Lost.—A note for one hundred dollars against Patrick McDade. Any person is hereby cautioned against purchasing the same. A suitable reward will be given to the person returning said note to James Gillis.

WELLS, STONE & Co.—This enterprising firm, who are doing a business quite as large as that of any wholesale business house in the Saginaw Valley, wish to extend their trade in this section and, as a legitimate means to the end desired, advertise in the ARGUS. They are gentlemen whom we can cordially recommend. Any of our retailers or lumbermen visiting Saginaw city, will meet with a welcome reception, and no doubt find something to their advantage by dropping in at their extensive headquarters on Water street.
